The Seven Sacraments

(De Fide.)

See CCC §1210

The seven sacraments are efficacious signs of grace, instituted by Christ and entrusted to the Church, by which divine life is dispensed to us. The visible rites by which the sacraments are celebrated signify and make present the graces proper to each sacrament. They bear fruit in those who receive them with the required dispositions.

Baptism - By which we are born into the new life in Christ.

The fruits of this sacrament are:

- Remission of original sin.
- Birth into the new life by which man becomes an adoptive son of the Father, a member of Christ, and a temple of the Holy Spirit.

- Incorporation into the Church, the body of Christ, and participation in the priesthood of Christ.
- The imprinting, on the soul, of an indelible spiritual sign, the character, which consecrates the baptized person for Christian worship. Because of this character, baptism cannot be repeated.

Confirmation - By which we are more perfectly bound to the Church and enriched with a special strength of the Holy Spirit.

The fruits of this sacrament are:

- An increase and deepening of baptismal grace.
- A deepening of one's roots in the divine filiation, which makes one cry, "Abba Father!"
- A firming of one's unity with Christ.
- An increase in the gifts of the Holy Spirit.
- A strengthening of one's bond with the Church and closed association with her mission.
- Special strength of the Holy Spirit to spread and defend the faith by word and action as a true witness of Christ, to confess the name of Christ boldly, and to never be ashamed of the cross.

- The imprinting, as in Baptism, of a spiritual mark or indelible character on the Christian's soul. Because of this character, one can receive this sacrament only once in one's life.

The Holy Eucharist - By which Christ associates His Church and all her members with the sacrifice of the cross.

The fruits of this sacrament are:

- An increase in the communicant's union with Christ.
- Forgiveness of venial sins.
- Preservation from grave sins.
- A strengthening of the bonds of charity between the communicant and Christ.
- A strengthening of the unity of the Church as the Mystical Body of Christ.

Reconciliation or Penance - By which sins after Baptism are forgiven.

The fruits of this sacrament are:

- Reconciliation with God: the penitent recovers sanctifying grace.
- Reconciliation with the Church.
- Remission of the eternal punishment incurred by mortal sins.
- Remission, at least in part, of temporal punishments resulting from sin.

- Peace and serenity of conscience, and spiritual consolation.
- An increase of spiritual strength for the Christian battle.

Anointing of the Sick - By which a special grace is conferred during grave illness or old age.

The fruits of this sacrament are:

- Unity with the passion of Christ, for the sick person's own good and that of the whole Church.
- Strength, peace, and courage to endure as a Christian the sufferings of illness or old age.
- Forgiveness of sins, if the sick person was not able to obtain it through the sacrament of Penance.
- Restoration of health, if it is conducive to the salvation of the soul.
- Preparation for entering into eternal life.

Holy Orders - By which the task of serving in the name and in the person of Christ is conferred.

The fruits of this sacrament are:
